Muslim Traditions and Modern Techniques of Power Armando Salvatore, 2001 This volume deals with historical and contemporary articulations of the relation of tension between the civilizing impetus of Muslim traditions and modern forms fields and techniques of power These techniques are associated with the process of state building as well as with the related constraints of disciplining normative cohesion control of the territory and monitored social differentiation The contributions conceptualize Muslim traditions as deriving their legitimacy authority as well as normative and organizing power from being embedded in the discourses and institutions of Islam which constitute one major center within world history by now also encompassing Muslim communities within Western societies South Asian Sufis Clinton Bennett, Charles M. mahasamadhi of the guru The Perils of Joy Samuli Schielke, 2012-12-13 Mulids festivals in honor of Muslim friends of God have been part of Muslim religious and cultural life for close to a thousand years While many Egyptians see mulids as an expression of joy and love for the Prophet Muhammad and his family many others see them as opposed to Islam a sign of a backward mentality a piece of folklore at best What is it about a mulid that makes it a threat to Islam and modernity in the eyes of some and an indication of pious devotion in the eyes of others What makes the celebration of a saint's festival appear in such dramatically different contours The Perils of Joy offers a rich investigation both historical and ethnographic of conflicting and transforming attitudes toward festivals in contemporary Egypt Schielke argues that mulids are characterized by a utopian momentum of the extraordinary that troubles the grand schemes of order and perfection that have become hegemonic in Egypt since the twentieth century Not an opposition between state and civil society nor a division between Islamists and secularists but rather the competition between different perceptions of what makes up a complete life forms the central line of conflict in the contestation of festive culture Women Mystics and Sufi Shrines in India Kelly

Pemberton, 2010 Women Mystics and Sufi Shrines in India combines historical data with years of ethnographic fieldwork to investigate women's participation in the culture of Sufi shrines in India and the manner in which this participation both complicates and sustains traditional conceptions of Islamic womanhood Kelly Pemberton's fieldwork offers an assessment of the contemporary circumstances under which a woman may be recognized as a spiritual authority or guide despite official denial of such status and an examination of the discrepancies between the commonly held belief that women cannot perform in the public setting of shrines and her own observations of women doing precisely that She demonstrates that the existence of multiple models of master and disciple relationships have opened avenues for women to be recognized as spiritual authorities in their own right Specifically Pemberton explores the work of performance recitation and ritual mediation carried out by women connected with Sufi orders through kinship and spiritual ties and she maps shifting ideas about women's involvement in public ritual events in a variety of contexts circumstances and genres of performance She also highlights the private petitioning of saints the Prophet and God performed by poor women of low social standing in Bihar Sharif These women are often perceived as being exceptionally close to God yet are compelled to operate outside the public sphere of major shrines
