Eloquence Is Power Eloquence Is Power:

Leviathan; Or, The Matter, Form and Power of a Commonwealth, Ecclesiastical and Civil Thomas Hobbes, 1886

Power and the Pulpit Gerald Hiestand, Joel Lawrence, 2025-10-22 The evangelical tradition places the sermon at the center of church life We build buildings around pulpits and preachers We champion gifted communicators We celebrate effective homiletical techniques But too often these emphases are not the result of deep theological convictions but of the church's adoption of modern visions of communication and success In our day preaching is easily unmoored from its biblical theological and historical anchors Too often it has become a tool of celebrity We have seen pulpits and preaching taken captive by political and pragmatic ideologies The teaching office of the church has sometimes been manipulated to secure and maintain human power The present condition of much preaching in our time compels us to ask What is our theology of preaching Is our vision of the sermon rooted in the miracle of God's word proclaimed or in the desire to entertain Is our preaching a function of a theology of glory or a theology of the cross Reflecting on such questions the essays in this volume seek to chart a path forward for word centered God glorifying preaching

The Keys of Power Nathan Crick, 2017-08-31 Examines Transcendentalism as a distinct rhetorical genre concerned primarily and self consciously with questions of power Nathan Crick has crafted a new critical rhetorical history of American Transcendentalists that interprets a selection of their major works between the years 1821 and 1852 as political and ethical responses to the growing crises of their times In The Keys of Power Crick argues that one of the most enduring legacies of the Transcendentalist movement is the multifaceted understanding of transcendental eloquence as a distinct rhetorical genre concerned primarily and self consciously with questions of power Crick examines the Transcendentalist understanding of how power is constituted in both the self and in society conceptualizing the relationships among technology nature language and identity critiquing the ethical responsibilities to oneself the other and the state and defining and ultimately praising the unique role that art action persuasion and ideas have in the transformation of the structure of political culture over historical time What is offered here is not a comprehensive genealogy of ideas a series of individual biographies or an effort at conceptual generalization but instead an exercise in narrative rhetorical theory and criticism that interprets some of the major specific writings and speeches by men and women associated with the Transcendentalist movement Sampson Reed Amos Bronson Alcott Orestes Brownson Ralph Waldo Emerson Margaret Fuller Henry David Thoreau and Frederick Douglass by placing them within a specific political and social history Rather than attempting to provide comprehensive overviews of the life and work of each of these individuals this volume presents close readings of individual texts that bring to life their rhetorical character in reaction to particular exigencies while addressing audiences of a unique moment This rhetoric of Transcendentalism provides insights into the keys of power that is the means of persuasion for our modern era that remain vital tools for individuals seeking to reconcile power and virtue in their struggle to make manifest a higher ideal in the world
