Forget Memory Creating Better Lives For People With Dementia:

Forget Memory Anne Davis Basting, 2009-07-01 Memory loss can be one of the most terrifying aspects of a diagnosis of dementia Yet the fear and dread of losing our memory make the experience of the disease worse than it needs to be according to cultural critic and playwright Anne Davis Basting She says Forget memory Basting emphasizes the importance of activities that focus on the present to improve the lives of persons with Alzheimer s disease and other dementias Based on ten years of practice and research in the field Basting s study includes specific examples of innovative programs that stimulate growth humor and emotional connection translates into accessible language a wide range of provocative academic works on memory and addresses how advances in medical research and clinical practice are already pushing radical changes in care for persons with dementia Bold optimistic and innovative Basting s cultural critique of dementia care offers a vision for how we can change the way we think about and care for people with memory loss Beyond the Great Forgetting

Patrick Gruener, 2022-08-29 Drawing on a selection of carefully curated autobiographical and fictional portrayals of the dementia experience this book gives voice to some of the most pressing ethical issues that commonly arise in the context of a dementing disorder and calls attention to various forms of narrative resistance in contemporary American literature on early onset Alzheimer s disease AD Based on the premise that the current public discourse on AD is largely dominated by an anxiety and fear promoting conception of the illness this multilayered inquiry strives to look beyond the widespread horrors of forgetting and loss in AD and in doing so attempts to give a better more accurate and more balanced impression of what it means to be living with such a diagnosis Identity Construction and Illness Narratives in Persons with Disabilities

Chalotte Glintborg, Manuel L. de la Mata, 2020-08-31 This book investigates how being diagnosed with various disabilities impacts on identity Once diagnosed with a disability there is a risk that this label can become the primary status both for the person diagnosed as well as for their family This reification of the diagnosis can be oppressive because it subjugates humanity in such a way that everything a person does can be interpreted as linked to their disability Drawing on narrative approaches to identity in psychology and social sciences the bio psycho social model and a holistic approach to disabilities the chapters in this book understand disability as constructed in discourse as negotiated among speaking subjects in social contexts and as emergent By doing so they amplify voices that may have otherwise remained silent and use storytelling as a way of communicating the participants realities to provide a more in depth understanding of their point of view This book will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies sociology medical humanities disability research methods narrative theory and rehabilitation studies Alzheimer's Disease Memoirs Pramod K Nayar, 2021-12-06 This book examines writings by people living with Alzheimer s Disease and their caregivers Its focus areas include the construction of the self in the face of diminishing linguistic and cognitive abilities the stigmatization of ageing the various narrative strategies that these texts often collaborative employ the health activism and advocacy generated via a biosociality and the ethics of care It examines the disease writing genre about a condition that ravages the ability to use language It serves as a literary examination of the work done in this area through a critical reading of the memoirs of those with AD and caregivers and a healthy dose of literary theory The book is a valuable resource for those interested in literary and critical theory and researchers in the field of ageing dementia studies Performing Psychologies Nicola Shaughnessy, Philip

Barnard, 2019-02-07 Performing Psychologies offers new perspectives on arts and health focussing on the different ways in which performance interacting with psychology can enhance understanding of the mind The book challenges stereotypes of disability madness and creativity addressing a range of conditions autism dementia and schizophrenia and performance practices including staged productions and applied work in custodial health and community settings Featuring case studies ranging from Hamlet to The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night Time the pioneering work of companies such as Spare Tyre and Ridiculusmus and embracing dance and music as well as theatre and drama the volume offers new perspectives on the dynamic interactions between performance psychology and states of mind It contains contributions from psychologists performance scholars therapists and healthcare professionals who offer multiple perspectives on working through performance based media Presenting a richly interdisciplinary and collaborative investigation of the arts in practice this volume opens up new ways of thinking about the performance of psychologies and about how psychologies perform The

Dramaturgy of Performing Science Jules Odendahl-James, 2024-09-02 This is a concise survey of new play projects that bring together the worlds of science and performance and the benefits that dramaturgical praxis can bring to both disciplines Three approaches common to both performance and science collaboration experimentation and interpretation are reflected in a series of case studies that demonstrate the ways in which dramaturgical tools can inform the wider public about scientific knowledge and practice provide a truly reciprocal model of co operation in collaboration that happens early on in the research process and inspire the creation of new dramatic forms that enact rather than translate the dynamics of scientific research Part of the Routledge Focus on Dramaturgy series this is a vital account of collaborative work for scholars and practitioners of theatre and performance as well as readers across the sciences Alzheimer's Disease in Contemporary

U.S. Fiction Cristina Garrigós, 2021-07-28 This volume seeks to bring readers to a deeper understanding of contemporary cultural and social configurations of Alzheimer's disease by analyzing 21st century U S novels in which the disease plays a key narrative role Via analysis of selected works Garrigós considers how the erasure of memory in a person with Alzheimer's affects our idea of the identity of that person and their sense of belonging to a group Starting out from three different types of memory individual social and cultural the study focuses on the narrative strategies that authors use to configure how the disease is perceived and represented This study is significant not only because of what the texts reveal about those with Alzheimer's but also for what they say about us about the authors and readers who are producing and consuming these texts about how we see this disease and what our attitudes to it say about contemporary U S society On Access in Applied

Theatre and Drama Education Colette Conroy, Adelina Ong, Dirk J. Rodricks, 2020-06-09 This book explores and interrogates access and diversity in applied theatre and drama education Access is persistently framed as a strategy to share power and to extend equality but in the context of current and recent power struggles it is also seen as a discourse that reinforces marginalisation and exclusion The political bind of access is also a conceptual problem It is impossible to refuse to engage in strategies to extend access to institutions representations buildings education discourse etc We cannot oppose access or strategies for access without reinforcing marginalisation and exclusion We can't not want access for ourselves or for others However we are then in danger of remaining immersed in a distribution of power that reinforces and naturalises inequality as difference For applied theatre and drama education the act of creating teaching and learning is intrinsically connected to choice along with the agency and capacity to choose What is less clear and what still interests us is how the distribution of power and representation creates the schema for an analysis of access and diversity This book was originally published as a special issue of Research in Drama Education: The Journal of Applied Theatre and Performance

Cultural Histories of Ageing Margery Vibe Skagen, 2021-05-12 Drawing on sixteenth to twenty first century American British French German Polish Norwegian and Russian literature and philosophy this collection teases out culturally specific conceptions of old age as well as subjective constructions of late life identity and selfhood The internationally known humanistic gerontologist Jan Baars the prominent historian of old age David Troyansky and the distinguished cultural historian and pioneer in the field of literature and science George Rousseau join a team of literary historians who trace out the interfaces between their chosen texts and the respective periods medical and gerontological knowledge The chapters in depth analyses of major and less known works demonstrate the rich potential of fiction poetry and autobiographical writing in the construction of a cultural history of senescence These literary examples not only bear witness to longue dur e representations of old age and epochal transitions regarding cultural attitudes to the aged they also foreground the subjectivities that produced some of these representations and that continue to communicate with readers of other times and places By casting a net over a variety of authors genres periods and languages the collection gives a broad sense of how literature is among the richest and most engaging sources for historicizing the ageing self

A Guide to Humanistic Studies in Aging Thomas R. Cole, Ruth E. Ray, Robert Kastenbaum, 2010-06 Aging has long been of interest to scholars and practitioners in a vast array of academic fields and professions Thomas R Cole Ruth E Ray and Robert Kastenbaum have brought together leaders from a variety of academic realms to explore how aging is depicted in the modern era and the effect of these portrayals on individuals and society

Creative Care Anne Basting, 2020-05-19 A MacArthur Genius Grant recipient pioneers a radical change in how we interact with older loved ones especially those experiencing dementia as she introduces a proven method that uses the creative arts to bring light and joy to the lives of elders In Creative Care Anne Basting lays the groundwork for a widespread transformation in our approach to elder care and uses compelling touching stories to inspire and guide us all family friends and health professionals in how to connect and interact with those living with dementia A MacArthur Genius Grant recipient Basting tells the story of how she pioneered a radical change in how we interact with our older loved ones Now used around the world this proven method has brought light and joy to the lives of elders and those who care for them Here for the first time everyone can learn these methods Early in her career Basting noticed a problem today s elderly especially those experiencing dementia and Alzheimer s are often isolated in nursing homes or segregated in elder care settings making the final years of life feel lonely and devoid of meaning To alleviate their sense of aloneness Basting developed a radical approach that combines methods from the world of theater and improvisation with evidence based therapies that connect people using their own creativity and imagination Rooted in twenty five years of research these new techniques draw on core creative exercises such as Yes and and Beautiful Questions This approach fosters storytelling and active listening allowing elders to freely share ideas and stories without worrying about getting the details correct Basting s research has shown that these practices stimulate the brain and awaken the imagination to add wonder and awe to patients daily lives and provide them a means of connection both with the world and with those caring for them Creative Care promises to bring light and hope to a community that needs it most
