How To Play Music Easy Guide Meredith Werstein, 2021-06-14 Many instruments are versatile but some are more suited to certain types of music. Although there is some classical repertoire for the saxophone for example, people associate it more with jazz and it is not a permanent feature of many orchestras. Some instruments may lend themselves better than others to the music you like, so consider this before you start. This book covers the 3 big questions people ask as beginner music students: why play music, what's the best way to learn, and what do I need to get started. Also included are practice tips and other techniques to guarantee success.

How to Read Music for Beginners Kevin Abbott, 2021-04 Learn how to read music like the pros and begin playing in no time. One question that puzzles many beginners is how and where to begin. In this book, you will start from the very beginning of how music notation came to be. Creating beautiful music goes beyond simply playing an instrument. Knowing a bit of music theory will go a long way in helping you play any instrument better. Unlike many self-help books that make endless promises, we guarantee you that by the end of this book, you will have everything you need to know how to read music like the pros. In this book, you will learn about the different types of instruments available. Get a clear understanding of the common terms used in music. Find out everything there is to know about sheet music. Learn about staves, notes, and rests. Discover the difference between time signatures and key signatures. Understand the differences in dynamics, accents, and articulation. Figure out how to divide octaves into scales. Learn the different types of harmony. Read an entire chapter on ear training to help you identify pitch, scales, intervals, and chords. And so much more. Don't fret; learning how to read music is not as difficult as it may sound. Like learning a new language, everything may sound strange and new, but with a little practice, you will be reading music like a pro in no time. So what are you waiting for?
