Dual Citizenship In Europe From Nationhood To Societal Integration:

Dual Citizenship in Europe Thomas Faist, 2016-04-29 In an age of terrorism and securitized immigration dual citizenship is of central theoretical and political concern The contributors to this timely volume examine policies regarding dual citizenship across Europe covering a wide spectrum of countries The case studies explore the negotiated character and boundaries of political membership and the fundamental beliefs and arguments within distinct political cultures and institutional settings which have shaped debates and policies on citizenship The analyses explore the similarities and differences in the politics of dual citizenship to identify the dominant terms of public debates within and across selected immigration and emigration states in Europe The research demonstrates that policies on dual citizenship are not simply explained by different concepts of nationhood Instead concepts of societal integration which may well be contested in a given polity are extremely influential

Choice, 2009 Transcending National Borders to Embrace the Beyond Manashi Ray, 2010 Immigration to Poland Agata Górny, 2010 Between State and Nation Myra A. Waterbury, 2010-11-15 This book investigates the relationship between states and transborder ethnic groups in Eastern Europe It uses the case of Hungary which has long standing ties to the nearly three million ethnic Hungarians in neighboring countries to address why and how kin states take action on behalf of their ethnic diasporas and the consequences of that engagement for regional relations and domestic politics The book argues that it is not ethnic affiliation but elite political competition within a newly liberalized post communist party system together with European Union integration that both drives increased engagement with ethnic kin abroad and constrains its most dangerous forms Revista Română de Știință Politică, 2009 Conceptualising "home" Esin Bozkurt, 2009 An extraordinarily rich account of the lives of Turkish men and women living in contemporary Germany Conceptualising Home offers striking insights into how members of a marginalized immigrant community make room for themselves and reconstruct homes away from home Based on in depth interviews the volume places the life experiences of Turkish people into a broader theoretical perspective while Esin Bozkurt's careful attention to gender and generational differences ensures an accurate balanced representation The result is a surprisingly useful understanding of the very idea of home Bibliographie Mensuelle United Nations Library (Geneva, Switzerland), 2007 Islam, Migration and Integration Ayhan Kaya, 2012-08-07 This work explores contemporary debates on migration and integration focusing on Euro Muslims It critically engages with republicanist and multiculturalist policies of integration and claims that integration means more than cultural and linguistic assimilation of migrant communities American Book Publishing Record, 2006 European Integration in Social and Historical Perspective Jytte Klausen, Louise A. Tilly, 1997-11-20 Exploring the historical roots of integration they trace contemporary integration efforts back to nineteenth century social action in response to capitalist development As today it was a time when internationalism both that of workers and capitalists sustained international cooperation and attempted to define a social dimension to economic development and to set universal standards for welfare The reemergence of an integrated Europe as an alternative to the system of states produced by the settlements of 1918 and 1945 has provided a new opening for internationalism The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2007
